PROFILE

I am a self-taught, highly adaptable, solution-oriented, Full-Stack Developer with over 4 years of demonstrated experience in software development, in both private and public sectors. Core experience spans from creating intuitive user interfaces, using standards and best practices along the way. I also perform tests and debugging to ensure high-quality code and provide application maintenance and support. I have experience working as an individual, and as part of a team, in hybrid, on-site, and remote settings.
